

The Ada Evening News

VOLUME XV. NUMBER 299.

ADA, OKLAHOMA, SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 1919.

TWO CENTS THE COPY

PLUME BRAND

QUALITY LINGERIE

The charm of "PLUME BRAND" originality blends perfectly with the daintiest wardrobe. The clever designs, the chic embroidery conceals, and the painstaking workmanship, is only equalled in the most expensive underwear. Yet—"PLUME BRAND" is moderately priced.

Many of the fetching new Silk and Cotton Fabrics are woven solely for "PLUME BRAND" Creations.

Each garment carries "Miss Phoebe Plume's" personal Guarantee of Satisfaction. The "PLUME BRAND" Label is her promise that you will be pleased.

Gowns, Combinations, Corset Covers and Skirts.

See the Sealpo Athletic Union Suits for Women at $1.25.

STEVENS-WILSON CO.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We have moved to our new home, where we have better and bigger quarters. Our special night classes start Monday.—Home Business College, Corner Main and Broadway. Telephone 182. GEO. E. SWOR, Manager. 3-1-1t

PLANTS NOW READY

Your Bermuda, Onions and Frost Proof Cabbage Plants. Phone 455. 222 North Johnson Street. 2-24-6t. D. W. SHILLING.

We Can Make It

If you have a Photo that you want Copied or Enlarged, bring it to us—We have every facility for doing this class of work—and, we know how—

Stall's Studio

PHONE 34

The March Victor Records Are Here

"Kiss Me Again" Mabel Garrison
"My Irish Song of Songs" John McCormack
"There is Somebody Waiting for Me" Harry Lauder
"I Am Waiting for You, Liza Jane" Vernon Dalhart
"Beautiful Ohio" Olive Kline
"Dear Little Boy of Mine" Elsie Baker

DANCE RECORDS.

"Till We Meet Again" Waltz
"Beautiful Ohio" Waltz
"Oui, Oui, Marie" Medley One-Step
"Sweet 'n' Pretty" Fox Trot
"The Girl Behind the Gun" Medley One-Step
"Rockin' the Boat" Fox Trot

Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

Agents Rexall Goods.

Liggett's Chocolates.

AWFUL TOLL OF BATTLE

LATE FIGURES PLACE KILLED AT ALMOST TWO MILLION.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Battle deaths during the war among all participants according to all available statistics were given today by General March as 7,354,000 men representing only those killed in action and died of wounds.

Russia leads the list with 1,600,000; Germany second with 1,500,000 and the United States last on the list with 50,000. Other figures were, France 1,385,000; England, 800,000; Italy, 460,000; Turkey, 400,000; Belgium, 102,000; Rumania, 100,000; Serbia and Montenegro, 100,000.

KNOX ASSAILS PEACE LEAGUE

PENNSYLVANIA SENATOR INSISTS AMERICAN RIGHTS WOULD SUFFER.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Senator Knox of Pennsylvania, former secretary of state, speaking today in the Senate assailed the League of Nations as striking down American constitutional principles and proposed a new world organization which he said would preserve the Monroe Doctrine and save America from results of European intrigue and aggression. Senator Knox said if the people desired what he termed a real league of nations to prevent war it might be secured through the formation of an international organization comprising all nations of the world. He said the constitution of such a body should first of all declare war on international crime and stipulate that any nation offending be punished as an international criminal. He said the League of Nations principally for "looseness of expression."

SPANISH CAPITAL UNDER MARTIAL LAW

By the Associated Press

MADRID, March 1.—As a result of rioting against profiteers today in which mobs attacked provision shops and butchers, martial law has been declared in Madrid and troops are patrolling streets.

TEMPERANCE MASSMEETING.

Monday evening, March 10, there will be a Temperance Massmeeting in the auditorium of the First Methodist church. The management of the campaign assure us that they will give us a man of rank and ability. We will give his name Monday. The speaker will present an American flag to the room in the Public Schools that gets the largest number of votes at the meeting. Said votes are to be cast by known people. The flag is a standard flag and will prove an ornament to any school room.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE.

A Bunch of Fresh Flowers. If you have a friend who's discouraged or ill,

And a message you'd send that will give him a thrill

Of pleasure to know that you thought it worth while

Thus your friendship to show and to help him to smile.

And to while away some of his dark, lonely hours,

Just send to his home a bunch of fresh flowers.

Ada Greenhouse.

2-28-6t

KELLY FIELD PLAYERS PLEASE ADA AUDIENCE

The Kelly Field Players entertained a large audience at the normal auditorium Friday evening and fully justified the high expectations of the audience. The men are all real artists and every feature of the program brought applause and most of them were encored. It was an entertainment full of variety and one that held the close attention of the spectators. It was all high grade, such as is appreciated by people of refinement.

March Gives Demobilization Figures.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Army demobilization up to yesterday had released 1,301,959 officers and men, General March announced today. Of these 77,542 were officers. Demobilization orders now have reached 1,571,000 men.

MANY TEACHERS EXPECTED HERE

HENRYETTA PLANNING TO PAY EXPENSES FOR SIXTY. OTHER TOWNS STRONG.

The teachers of the East Central part of Oklahoma are looking forward to a profitable meeting here this week, judging from the letters and requests for more information being received by J. M. Gordon, president of the East Central Normal. The program is to be one of the best ever heard in Oklahoma. Dr. George D. Strayer, president of the National Educational Association, will be one of the main attractions. He has assured the officials of this association that he will be here for the meeting. Dr. Strayer has visited Oklahoma once before and was greatly impressed with the educational possibilities of the new state. He is reported to be a great platform man.

Governor Robertson is on the program, and is expected to be here, though it is realized his time is taken fully at this time with legislative problems. Rural education and the solution of the problems in connection with rural education are to have a big place on the program. As governor Robertson is known to be a strong advocate of good rural schools, the teachers of this district want to hear him discuss the matter.

Dr. Winship, one of the best known educators of the East, will fill the platform Thursday evening, the first day of the meeting. Dr. Stratton D. Brooks, Hon. R. W. Wilson, Dr. J. W. Cantwell and others prominent in educational life in this state will address the meeting. A. C. Parsons, State High school inspector and president of the Oklahoma Educational Association, will be present for at least two or three sessions.

Many visiting teachers from other normal school districts and other states write that they will be here to get inspiration from the noted men.

The Henryetta schools will pay the expenses of the teachers to this meeting, and sixty teachers will be here from that city alone. Prof. John Hefley, superintendent of the Henryetta schools, has been instrumental in making this part of the Educational Association one of the strongest in the state. He is now vice president.

Supt. Faust of the Shawnee schools reports that from sixty to eighty teachers from his city will come. Supt. Quaid of Tishomingo says most of his teachers will come, and the same information comes from Supt. A. P. Lever of Coalgate.

NICK T. HEARD BADLY BURNED

COUNTY OFFICIAL SERIOUSLY INJURED WHEN CLOTHING CATCHES FIRE.

Nick T. Heard, tax assessor of Pontotoc county, was seriously burned at an early hour this morning at his home on East Seventh. While standing before an open gas stove his night shirt caught fire and he was enveloped in flames. He finally succeeded in smothering it with a quilt, but not until badly burned. The worst burns were on his back. At last account the injured man was resting fairly well.

WEATHER REPORT FOR FEBRUARY

Rainfall 2.01 inches.

Maximum temperature 65 on the 12th.

Minimum 12 on the 28th.

Clear days 17; partly cloudy 1; cloudy 10.

Rainfall for 1919 to date, 2.70 inches; 1918, 1.21; 1917, .83; 1916, 3.93; 1915, 4.5.

Rainfall for February, 1918, 1.21; 1917, .83; 1916, .18; 1915, 3.5.

If the bowels are clogged up poisons get into the blood, causing loss of strength, skin eruption, dizziness and vertigo (blind staggers). Prickly Ash Bitters will open the bowels, drive out the impurities and restore strength, energy and cheerful spirits. Price $1.25 per bottle. Gwin & Mays Drug Co., special agents.

The greatest basketball of the season tonight at the Normal. Outcome to determine county championship. If you miss it, you miss the best. 3-1-1t

It may be Roff and Francis, and it may not, tonight. Anyway it will be good sport, both boys and girls' games. Admission 35 cents. 3-1-1t

BAVARIA FACES GRAVE CRISIS

SOLDIERS AND WORKMEN'S COUNCIL DECLARES ITSELF SUPREME.

By the Associated Press

BASLE, March 1.—The Soldiers' and Workmen's council at Munich has discussed the constitution for Bavaria according to advices here and has declared that the Bavarian Diet is adjourned and the Soldiers' and Workmen's Council shall be known as the provisional National Council until the new congress meets. The soldiers' and workmen's congress has assumed supreme power.

Martial Law Declared. PARIS, March 1.—The Soldiers' and Workmen's Congress at Munich has declared martial law for all Bavaria according to a Zurich dispatch to the Matin.

BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

STRONG TEAMS HERE TO PLAY FOR CHAMPIONSHIP OF PONTOTOC COUNTY.

The Pontotoc county basketball tournament opened this afternoon at the normal gymnasium with the girls' teams of Hart and Jesse playing the first preliminary at the hour of going to press. The finals will be played tonight between the winners of the various preliminaries. Some strong teams are in the contest and plenty of excitement is promised in the finals, which will determine the championship of the county for the year.

Following is a list of teams here to participate: Hart girls, Vanoss boys, Roff boys, Francis boys and girls, Center girls, Stonewall boys and girls.

INDIAN APPROPRIATION BILL PASSES SENATE

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The Senate early today passed the annual Indian appropriation bill carrying $1,000,000 more than the $14,500,000 in the House bill. The Senate adjourned at 1 o'clock this morning.

RED CROSS NOTES.

It seems that the ladies realizing the fact that Mrs. Ellison, director of hospital garments, is confined to her room on account of influenza, are trying to encourage her by rushing the work as rapidly as possible.

They are planning to finish the order of both robes Tuesday.

If you want to spend a social day of real SERVICE, come.

Roff Auxilliary has just finished three dozen robes and called for more work which is being shipped today.

These ladies have done a wonderful lot of beautiful work.

Mrs. R. F. Crumley, director of hospital garments at Roff, called at Headquarters this week and expressed her anxiety in assisting to rush the order of pajamas out.

We have been much delayed with this order on account of sickness throughout the county, but feel that within the next three weeks it will be ready for shipment.

Division Headquarters insists that we take more interest in applying for awards. All names of applicants must be in St. Louis next week. If you apply, get your name in early.

A DANSANT.

Joining the birds, flowers and sunshine in heralding the coming of spring, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Simpson opened their spacious home on Thursday evening with a dansant to their friends of the young married set of the city.

After a half-hour spent in social mixing, all responded to the musicians' call to the light fantastic. Two hours and a half were spent in this pleasurable pastime, after which the hostess served a lovely luncheon.

As the last strains of "Home, Sweet Home" died away the guests reluctantly bid their host and hostess adieu, expressing their delight over the gay and enjoyable evening after the long lull in social activities.

GENERAL GOETHALS ON ARMY RETIRED LIST

WASHINGTON, March 1.—General Goethals returned to civil life today as a retired army officer, relinquishing his duties as assistant chief of the general staff to Brigadier General George W. Burr.

Somewhat cloudy is the weather outlook for Sunday.

S
Saturday's The Day, Men!
For You to Clothe Yourself

Men's Winter Suits REDUCED!

These Suits can be bought now from us at a big saving.

This is an event, Mr. Man, which you cannot afford to neglect if you are an economist.

We are receiving some new modles for Spring of the latest materials in the Schloss Bros. line and other good makes.

Spring Silk Shirts . . . $5 Up

Underwear Special

This is an opportunity to get in on a big saving.
$2.00 Unions, Special, $1.60.

Nettleton Shoes for Men

Shaw's
DEPARTMENT STORE

S.M. SHAW, PROP.

PHONE 77 Established in 1902 ADA, OKLA.

COLORED SOLDIERS LAND AT NEW YORK

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 1.—The steamship Sobral arrived from Brest today with 2655 troops, mostly National army colored troops from the ninety-second division.

On Monday evening, March 3, at 7:30, a good, old-time pie supper will be given at Glenwood school under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' association. A short program will be rendered. Everybody come! Plenty of good coffee free. 2-28-3t

Ada girls will probably be in the finals tonight. Roff, Stonewall, Francis or some other team will also play. There will be a boys' game for good measure. Admission 35 cents. Be there. 3-1-1t

Hemstitching and Picoting. Mrs. M. A. Cassidy has purchased a new machine and is now prepared to do hemstitching at her home, 922 East Eighth Street. Phone 445. Your work solicited. 2-24-6t

Important

A SALE OF
MEN'S SHIRTS

NOW GOING ON

Beginning today we have placed on sale one big lot of fine shirts, ends of different lines, made of excellent grades of madras and percale, in both soft or stiff cuffs, with and without collars. They are stylish and as new as any you will see about town, regardless of the fact that they are offered at—

75c Each, 3 for $2

BLAME YOURSELF IF YOU FAIL TO GET YOURS.

The Surprise Store

Established 1903

115-117 West Main St.

Phone 117

HOW RHEUMATISM BEGINS

The excruciating agonies of rheumatism are usually the result of failure of the kidneys to expel poisons from the system. If the irritation of these uric acid crystals is allowed to continue, incurable bladder or kidney disease may result. Attend to it at once. Don't resort to temporary relief. The sick kidneys must be restored to health by the use of some sterling remedy which will prevent a return of the disease.

Get some GOLD MEDAL Haaren Oil Capsules immediately. They have brought back the joys of life to countless thousands of sufferers from rheumatism, lame back, lumbago, sciatica, gall stones, gravel and other affections of the kidneys, liver, stomach, bladder and allied organs.

They will attack the poisons at once, clear out the kidneys and urinary tract and the soothing healing oils and herbs will restore the inflamed tissues and organs to normal health.

All others are imitations. Ask for GOLD MEDAL and be sure the name GOLD MEDAL is on the box. Three sizes, at all good druggists.

THE ADA EVENING NEWS

BY THE NEWS PUBLISHING AND PRINTING COMPANY
ADA, OKLAHOMA

BYRON NORRELL, Pres. and Editor
Wm. D. LITTLE, Associate Editor
OTIS B. WEAVER, Vice President
MILES C. GRIGSBY, Business Mgr.

Published Daily Except Sunday

Entered at the postoffice at Ada, Oklahoma, as second class mail matter.

Terms of Subscription.
By Carrier, per Week.....10c
By Carrier, per Month, in advance.....40c
By Mail, per Month in Advance.....40c

One Year, in advance.....$4.00

Member of Associated Press
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

The more some men think, the less progress they make toward a decision. It is like stirring a mud puddle with a stick, the more stirring done the worse it gets.

It will be only a few days now until the citizens of Oklahoma will know what to count on in the way of road legislation. When the senate has acted on the bill it will be threshed out in conference committee and go to the governor. Then comes the tug of war over its adoption by the voters.

Whether Eugene Debs is in sympathy with the bolsheviks or not, they regard him as one of their bunch. They have come forward with the magnanimous offer to release an American consul they held at Moscow in exchange for the release of Debs by the United States. They have also been considerably exercised over the case of Tim Mooney and would be willing to strike a bargain for his release.

When the next congress convenes and the republicans elect Gillett of Massachusetts speaker, the gavel will pass from the west for the first time in about twenty years. When Tom Reed of Maine retired Henderson of Iowa, Cannon of Illinois and Clark of Missouri successively filled the speaker's chair. Before Reed's day Carlisle of Kentucky was the presiding officer, and during the four years from 1911 to 1895 Crisp of Georgia wielded the gavel.

One thing the legislature might do to advantage would be to enact a measure providing that appeals in small cases from justice court be made to the county court instead of the district court. The expense of running the county court is much less than the district court and the time of the latter could be employed to better advantage handling the more important matters. This would so far relieve the dockets of the district courts that it would be possible to reduce the number of districts and save the taxpayers a large item of expense.

Society

With Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Simpson. "Put a little laughter into life. Break the sunshine through the gray. Softer all the bitterness of strife. By mixing in a little bit of play."

This is just what Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Simpson did last Tuesday evening when a few of their friends were invited to spend the time in playing auction 42. Assisted by Mrs. Bird, they greeted their friends at the door ushering them into their spacious home beautifully adorned with potted plants and vases of cut flowers. For two hours the merry game held full sway after which the guests were invited to the dining room, where the hostess seated with Mrs. Rives and

Mrs. Cain at the dining table made beautiful with soft pink shaded candles, pointed lace and pluk carnations, served a buffet luncheon. Others assisting in serving were Mesdames Ebey, Alderson, Sledge, Wilson and Bogan. Near the mid-night hour the guests departed feeling

"Laughter makes a sweeter sound than gold. Friendship is a richer gift than fame. Kindness keeps the heart from growing cold."

Those invited to spend this pleasant evening were: Messrs. and Mesdames Galbraith, Rodamel, Duncan, Cutler, M. C. Wilson, Hope, Neathery, Lasater, Sledge, Norrell, Snead, Rives, Ellison, Bolen, Grigsby, Norris, Thornton, Reich, Warren, J. M. King, Alderson, Gowing, Allen, J. McKinley, Pettigrew, Gwin, Bobbitt, Conn, Gilbreath and Mesdames Bills, Brownell, Cain, Miss Curry and Miss Fulton.

Presbyterian Choir Entertained.

The choir of the Presbyterian church held its rehearsal at the manse Thursday evening and combined this with a pleasant social hour with the pastor and family. After practicing the anthems and hymns for Sunday services, the host and hostess tested the wits of the guests with a contest of conundrums, such as: What flies forever and rests never? What stands in its bed with its heart in its head? These answers created much merriment. Then came some verses headed, The Farmer Who Seldom OO, each line ending in blank that had to be filled in with y, it, etc, making rhymes when the blanks were properly filled.

Miss Lula Lee gave the audience a treat in her rendition of piano numbers from Chopin, Schuman, Rachmaninoff and Mendelssohn. Mrs. Norrell gave some vocal numbers. Last of all the hostess and little daughter, Hilda, served hot chocolate and sandwiches.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Cure that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address: E. J. JENNEY & CO. Toledo, Ohio. Sold by J. J. JENNEY & CO. Toledo, Ohio.

BRIDE of BATTLE

A Romance of the American Army Fighting on the Battlefields of France

By

VICTOR ROUSSEAU

(Copyright, 1918, by W. G. Chapman.)

CHAPTER II.

He stopped, astonished at the way the Major took his suggestion. Howard began to stutter, paced the inside of the tent for some moments, muttering to himself, and then swung round upon his heel, facing the lieutenant.

"Good God, no, Wallace! Whatever put that infernal idea into your head?" he exploded. "See here, now! You're not well enough to talk this thing over tonight. Some day I'll tell you why your proposal is impossible."

"That's all very well, Major. I don't know what you mean, but if you don't like my proposition you know what you can do. I'm quite well enough to listen to what's worrying you. Dig it out."

"I haven't time, Wallace. There's these stragglers to be sorted out. Not that much can be done tonight, I suppose. Sometime I'll tell you."

He swung round on his heel and made for the entrance, stopped and returned.

"I suppose I'd better tell you now," he exclaimed. "I had thought it might be as well not to tell you ever. You don't happen to know who this child's father was—that man in the tent?"

"What do you mean, Major? Some settler caught by a bullet, I suppose."

"Hampton!" said Major Howard, grimly.

Lieutenant Wallace sat bolt upright on the bed and stared at the other in amazement.

"The man who sold our mobilization plans to Spain?" he whispered, conscious of a sudden terror for the child.

The major nodded. "It's years since we worked together in the war office," he answered, "and, frankly, I didn't know the face. You wouldn't have, would you, after the work that the bullet had done? One of those

YOU NEED
PRICKLY ASH BITTERS
For Dizziness
and Sour Stomach

Gwin & Mays Drug Co., Special Agents.

d—d dum-dums. But—you didn't see this, did you?"

He took a purse from his pocket, opened it and shook out three gold pieces into his hand. "That was on a belt about the body," he said. "And Stared at the Other in Amazement.

there were some papers—not the ones we wanted, but enough to identify him. It was Hampton all right."

He went to the tent door and looked out. "Here, Johnson!" he called.

The negro servant appeared almost instantaneously within the opening and stood to attention.

"Could you use three gold pieces, Johnson?" inquired Major Howard.

"Well, sub, I don't know as I'd object," replied the negro, grinning.

"It's part of a sum that was paid to an American soldier for betraying his country."

"Oh, Lord, no, Major!" answered Johnson.

"Then do what you think best with these."

The negro looked at the gold coins in his hand, stepped outside the tent and swung his arm. The pieces fell in the jungle grass far beyond the encampment. Major Howard shied the purse after them and went back to where Wallace still sat upright on the bed.

He noticed, with a certain grimness of spirit, that one of the lieutenant's hands rested on the child's fair hair.

"Well, Wallace?" he asked.

"It's damnable."

"We can't exactly make his child the regimental pet, can we?"

Wallace was silent, and the Major sat down on the edge of the bed beside him.

"I had orders to watch for him," he said. "He was to have been hanged as soon as we captured Santiago. That's why he was making for the jungle. He was detected and allowed to escape with his life, but he had been working as a Spanish agent since he was drummed out of America. His career ended at the luckiest moment for him. He seems to have had the one redeeming quality of affection for his child, though if he had had a particle of unselfishness in him he would have left her behind him. I suppose she was the only thing he had in his wretched life."

"Of course there's no palliation," suggested Wallace. "But the man may have been born good and—gone downhill."

"He was born rotten," answered the Major. "He sold his country to pay his gambling debts. Cuba was about the only place that would hold him, I imagine. And to think that swine was once in our regiment! Sorry I had to tell you, Wallace!"

He hesitated a while; Wallace had not moved; but the child at his side stirred and breathed heavily. The major's fists clenched.

"I'm trying to be just to the dead," he said. "But I feel that a thousand years of hell wouldn't atone for that crime, Wallace."

Mark Wallace looked up. "I'm not sure that I know all the facts about the case, Major," he said.

"The facts are that it was no sudden act of fear or temptation, but calculated, cold-blooded deliberation. We knew at the war office that there was a leakage. It had been traced to the mobilization division, where Kellerman and I were working. Even we were under suspicion for a time. Then it narrowed down to Hampton and another."

"Wallace, those months were the worst time I've ever spent. Hampton was my best friend, and Kellerman's too. We spied on him—had to."

"Well, you know what happened more or less. There was a woman go between, as there generally is—a fine looking young woman, little more than a girl, named Hilda Morsheim. One of those French-German Alsations Wallace. Kellerman got some hold on her, and she confessed. The case against Hampton was absolutely proven."

"There wasn't any trial. The fellow could have been shut up for a good many years; he had cost his country millions; he ought to have been hanged. But he was quietly cashiered and allowed to disappear. Maybe it was a foolish move, but we felt the shame pretty badly and wanted to forget it. Hampton was let go, on the understanding that he leave the country forever. Oh, yes, he assumed the innocent air quite dramatically. Some of the war office people believed in him until the damning documents were laid before them."

"And he was still somehow in touch with things, Wallace, and the leakages went on afterward. That's why we had orders to hang him as soon as Santiago was taken. He did the kindest thing he could have done to himself when he got in the way of that sniper's bullet."

"I'll tell you who the child's mother was, Wallace, because I was unfortunate enough to know her. She was a Miss Rennie, Miss Marjorie Rennie, of a Baltimore family—fine people, and, of course, with a tradition like that, she believed in the scoundrel absolutely. She came to me twice. The first time was before the informal trial held by the department. She begged me to believe he was innocent and the victim of a trap. I wouldn't even listen. You know, when a man has to run down his friend he has to harden his heart."

"She came to me again, after Hampton was broken. She told me I had played false to my best friend and that I'd suffer for it to the last day of my life. I've never forgotten that interview, and you can guess now it made me mad to hang Hampton when we learned that he was still keeping up the game from his exile in Cuba. He must have got quite a number of confidential papers out of the war office. That's about all."

"It's enough," said Wallace. "The girl married him, then?"

"So much we learned. And also that she died later. You see, we've been pretty close on the fellow's track the last couple of years—ever since the war became a probability, in fact. Most of the officers in the regiment are since that time, but I guess they all knew something, and kept it quiet, like you."

Wallace nodded. "I fancy there's a good deal of feeling," he said.

"Quite a good deal," said the major, dryly. "And I guess you'll agree with me that this makes it—let's say, a little difficult to adopt his child officially?"

"You mean the remembrance would be too bitter?"

"I mean that that position is the one and only position that she is disqualified from holding, by reason of birth."

"Still," urged Wallace, "it isn't in the blood. The mother was decent. Why should that baby be tarnished with her father's treachery?"

"It's written in the Good Book—" began the major.

"And there's something else about coats of fire, too, Major, which came as a sort of revision of the old law. It's just what we ought to do, because it's the only way to adjust the matter."

"Adjust it? Adjust what?" cried the Major, with sudden passion.

"The whole of that hellish business, Major. The man was once an officer of the Seventieth. He's dead and his crimes have died with him. We want to forget that such a thing could have happened, and the only way is to leave him to God's judgment and to cast out all bitterness from our hearts. You quoted Scripture to me—well, I gave you the answer from the same Book. Let death bring oblivion to the man's memory. He's left us the child. Start here. Start fresh. I have the right to the kid, but what you have told me makes me feel strongly that there's a Providence in this affair, and I'll lend her to you—mark that word, Major!—on that condition or none."

Major Howard pulled at his mustache in agitation. "You don't really mean it, Wallace?" he asked.

"I do. If you want me to let you take her till the war's over—"

"It means forgiving that black-guard."

"It means forgetting him and letting the Judge judge."

"It goes against every instinct. I'd bring her up away from the regimental life. Besides, there are the others."

"Who else knows?"

"Well, of course, nobody else knows who the dead man was. The colonel will have to know. But he needn't know we've adopted the child. He's going South after the war. However, I'm afraid Kellerman knows. He recognized what was left of the face, or suspected somehow. I could tell from his manner."

"I don't see any overwhelming difficulty in that. You can trust Kellerman?"

The major nodded, and it occurred to Wallace that he would rather trust any of the officers than Kellerman. He had conceived a prejudice against him which he could not have explained.

"And Hampton's name was erased from the old mess list," Wallace continued.

The major, who had been pulling at his mustache and thinking deeply, came to his decision.

"Well, I'll take her on those terms, Wallace," he said. "The fellow was a bad lot, but, as you say, there may be no reason why this little animal should suffer for his sins. The mother was decent, and there may be something in that idea of a vicarious restitution, I'll agree, Wallace, if you'll let me take over the charge of her till the war's ended. We'll enter her on the mess book and settle a fictitious parentage on her afterward, and may she never know her father's history. By the time she's old enough to understand a mascot's duties, flirt with the lieutenants and plead for the drunks, maybe we'll have forgotten it ourselves. Good night, my boy. Take care of your wound. I'll send in that milk and biscuits and a couple of cakes of naphtha soap, and a porcelain tub with silver trimmings, for you to make a start of her in the morning."

He glanced at the sleeping child, took Mark's hand and went quickly out of the tent. Under the sky he stood still for a few moments.

"The d—d scoundrel!" he muttered.

At that instant his alert ear heard what the sentry, posted some distance away, had failed to catch—the rustling of some moving figure in the dense jungle grass at the edge of the camp.

The major remained perfectly motionless, except for his right hand, which was swiftly withdrawing his revolver from its case. Suddenly he was transformed into action. He leaped between the two last tents of the line, to see a man confront him for an instant. In the light of the quarter moon the major could not distinguish how the intruder was dressed. It was evident, however, that he had been prowling outside the tent which held Wallace and the child.

The Major Could Not Distinguish How the Intruder Was Dressed.

"Halt!" shouted the major and the sentry together, and as the man dropped into the grass, the rifle and revolver rang out simultaneously.

The sentry, shouting to the guard, came running up. The major and he searched the spot, but they found nobody.

"One of those d—d Cuban sneak-thieves," muttered Major Howard as he replaced his revolver in its case. And he hurried away to look after his men.

CHAPTER III.

Several years later Captain Mark Wallace descended from a street car and walked up the grounds of a very select young ladies' boarding school in Westchester county, New York, kept by two maiden ladies. Entering the colonial portico, the captain rang the bell and asked to see Miss Howard. Five minutes afterward, having satisfied the lady principal that he stood in the avuncular relation to her charge, and was a man of blameless life, he met Eleanor in the reception room.

It was some years since he had seen her. The grimy little wail of the Santiago battlefield had shot up into a slim, long-legged schoolgirl, with brown hair tied back with a ribbon, and a face that already showed the promise of beauty.

The girl hurried forward as if expecting an embrace, realized Mark's intention, and checked herself quickly and held out both hands.

"Dear Uncle Mark!" she exclaimed, "I've been looking forward to you ever since I got your letter telling me that you were coming East."

"Well, it's nice to be appreciated like that," said Mark, laughing.

"I couldn't quite persuade myself that it was true, and that I should really see you at last. And you're not in the least like your photograph."

"Homelier, Eleanor?"

"No, but different. Older—very much older. You must be awfully old—quite thirty, I should say."

"Nearly," admitted Mark, wondering whether the long years in the West, with the sweltering heat and arduous service, had really aged him prematurely. Mark had had no influence to secure him anything better than a border post. He often wondered why he had not gone into civil life, like so many of his class, and amassed a competency in the first booming years of the twentieth century.

Something in the blood, perhaps, had held him to the army life, which he loved so much in principle and hated so much in practice. He was not far short of thirty; he had nothing but his meager pay; no ties but a married sister in Chicago and the girl in the boarding school, who filled so great a part of his thoughts, so disproportionate a share.

For until that day he had only seen her once since he picked her up in the jungle, and she had been too young to retain the memory of the meeting in Major Howard's home.

"I expected a young man, but I'm just as pleased to see you," said Eleanor. "I don't like very young men."

Mark received her amends with amusement, and they sat down side by side upon the sofa, and were soon deep in conversation. Mark learned all about her school and her friends. She was very happy there and would regret not going back at the end of the holidays. However, Major and Mrs. Howard had only placed her there for a few months while they went on a visit to the West.

"I always felt that you are really my guardian eve if you did give me up to Major Howard," said Eleanor.

"But I have only lent you," said Mark. "I couldn't very well take care of you when I was sent to Texas. And it has always been understood that you belong to me—I mean, that I am your guardian, Eleanor."

"I know," she said. "And you write me such splendid letters, with such good advice in them."

"Which you don't follow."

"In need I do," said the girl, eagerly. "Only sometimes it's just a little out of date, Uncle Mark."

"In what particular?" inquired Mark, beginning to feel a little like a prig in the presence of this self-possessed young person. It is so easy to assume the back of adviser from a distance, but difficult to retain the role close to face.

"Well, when you wrote me last year to remember not to be pert and forward, like modern children, Uncle Mark. Pertness comes at seven or eight. One isn't pert at twelve—at least, not in the way you meant. They call it ill-bred, then."

"I suppose I didn't realize how big you were getting," said Mark penitently. "But you can't think how glad I am to see you, anyway."

"It's a shame sticking you for years out in that horrible desert," said the girl. "I wish, Uncle Mark, you hadn't stayed in the army after the war."

"Why, my dear?"

"Because then you could have gone into business in New York, like Captain Murray and Captain Crawford."

"I've been thinking about as much myself, Eleanor. But I guess the army got hold of me."

"But they haven't treated you rightly, Uncle Mark. They haven't promoted you for years, and they have jumped all sorts of officers over your head. Major Howard was saying so only before he left for Alaska. But, of course, he's out of favor, and he wouldn't have any influence, anyway. It's years since he was in the army."

"I suppose I'm a back number, my dear. Some of us have to be. Perhaps I'll get my chance. I'm not thirty yet, you know, and thirty isn't considered awfully old in the army. At least, it isn't the retiring age."

"Don't be so absurd, Uncle Mark! You don't look an old man at all. It was just that your photograph was taken so long ago, and I didn't reflect that you must have changed."

"And if ever another war comes I'm sure my experience will count for a lot. And I'll probably have command over Captain Murray and Captain Crawford if ever the National Guard is called on for serious work. And then you'll have your function as our mascot, you know."

He was surprised at the girl's sudden responsiveness to his words. She grew very serious.

"I've often thought about that, Uncle Mark," she answered.

"But, of course, it may never happen."

"I suppose not. But if ever it does I mean to try to be what you meant me to be when you made that condition to the major. How I wish—how I wish—"

"Yes, my dear?"

"That we knew who my father was. Sometimes I think he was only an American planter, perhaps, who lived in Cuba and was forced to flee when the war began. And then again I dream that he may have been a brave soldier who was trying to serve his country by going into the Spanish lines in disguise, and I hope that I may be worthy of him."

"You don't remember anything, Eleanor?"

"Yes, Uncle Mark. I'm sure I do—and yet I've thought so much about it that I'm not sure how much of it is memory and how much is just child's inventions. Perhaps I invented all of

it. "Well, Eleanor, this is an revoir," he said. "Perhaps for years."

She looked at him in sudden alarm. "You are not coming back before you leave for the West, Uncle Mark?" she asked.

"They won't allow me the time. I have to go to Washington tomorrow, and then back to Texas."

She returned no answer, but went with him to the house door, and turned and faced him there, pulling at the lapels of his coat.

"Send me a new photograph, Captain Mark," she said. "I'm not going to call you Uncle Mark any more."

"An older one?" asked Mark, laughing, though he had a strange sinking at his heart. This child epitomized home to him, and he had been homeless since boyhood.

"You must forgive me," she said, a

"I know that she was my mother," it, and made myself believe I remembered it. And yet I am sure part of it is memory."

"What do you remember?" asked Mark rather fearfully.

"I remember nothing. I suppose the bullet that killed my father must have struck him while he was in the hut, but I have no picture in my mind at all."

Mark mumbled something to conceal his agitation. "And do you remember me coming and picking you up?" he asked.

She shook her head regretfully. "I don't remember anything else," she answered. "Nothing until that dinner in the major's house."

She linked her arm through his and looked at him earnestly. "Uncle Mark, it makes me unhappy sometimes to think that I have no memory, no clear memory of my parents. I am sure that some day all this mystery will be cleared up. Don't you hope so?"

"Yes," answered Mark, miserably.

A Sheriff in Tennessee must be a man of brawn & for

Mr. B. W. D. Barnes of Warren County, Mo. is up to Requirements.

HIS LIFE A STIRRING ONE

Always in robust health, B. W. D. Barnes could ride, shoot and get his man. He was everything a sheriff in Warren Co., Mo. should be until a catarrhal trouble overtook him by a complication of the stomach, bowels or other organs. He had tried the famous Peruna, but it did not seem to do any good. Finally he decided to try Peruna and was entirely cured by four bottles. That was three years ago. I am now as well as ever, able to ride all the time. Thanks to Peruna.

Like Sheriff Barnes, thousands owe their present health to Peruna. For catarrh of the head, nose and throat, catarrhal inflammation of little wistfully. "Captain Mark, there's something I want awfully to say to you, but it takes a lot of courage," she added.

"Tell me just the same," answered Mark. "You know, my dear, I want you to have everything you wish for. And if Major Howard won't give it to you, you just let me know. He has assumed the responsibility for your upbringing, and I'm going to have the fun of giving you pleasure."

"It's something that Major Howard can't give me, Captain Mark."

"Can I?"

"Yes," she said in a low voice, pulling at his coat, and suddenly raising her eyes to his. Mark Wallace saw the soul of a mature woman look out of the eyes of the child. "When I'm older and have put my hair up, and wear long dresses—when I'm eighteen, say, I—I want you to marry me, Captain Mark."

She was gone in a flash, running along the corridor, while Mark Wallace stood dumfounded at the door, hearing her footsteps grow fainter as she hurried into the recesses of the Misses Harpers' School for Select Young Ladies.

Mark went down the walk like a man dreaming. It was absurd; it was, perhaps, characteristic of the girl's age and temperament; and yet, in spite of the absurdity, Captain Mark Wallace felt as if he had suddenly regained the grimy little child whom he had found upon the hillside in front of Santiago, and lost again.

As he reached the gate he saw a man watching him from the bend of the road. Something of furtiveness in the man's posture made him wheel sharply round; then he remembered Eleanor's words and started in haste toward him. But the man shambled off at a quick gait and when Mark reached the bend he could see no body.

(To be Continued)

10% Profit on your Bond

START YOUR HOME OR GARDEN BY BUYING A LOT IN BELMONT ADDITION TO ADA

We allow you $110.00 on your $100.00 Liberty Bond and $55.00 on a $50.00 Bond. Prices the same as before the war on these lots. See our agent for map and price list. Payments 50 cents a week on each lot.

No Interest or Taxes for Two Years.

N. P. DODGE & CO., Owners
JOHN P. MCKINLEY, Agent.

ED J. PETERS, ARCHITECT
JOEL L. DAVIS, ASSOCIATE
Ada, Oklahoma
General Architectural Practice
Map Work—Mechanical Drawings
Phone 868

NEW TERM OPEN MARCH 3

You will enjoy many advantages if you enter March 3. Special classes start Monday, March 3. Books free with courses.

HOME BUSINESS COLLEGE

Corner Main and Broadway. Phone 182.

COFFEE CAKES

That Tempt You

EVERY SATURDAY

Quality Coffee Cake with delicious flavor; money cannot buy better, nor skill produce their superior. We take as much pains in our buying and making as a housewife can, and possibly more than most people consider necessary. Every Saturday morning the display of Coffee Cake from our own ovens is tempting in the extreme. The season's possibilities are on show, and the variety adequate.

ADA STEAM BAKERY

NEXT DOOR TO POSTOFFICE
Phone 124.

have reached the age of accountability in personal fellowship with Christ. Be in your place Sunday morning.

We will administer the Lord's Supper at the 10:45 service, and the pastor will talk briefly on "The Stewardship of Prayer and Life." New members will have an opportunity for reception into our church at this service.

"Is Married Life a Failure?" or "The Man Who Wanted the Other Man's Wife and Got Her" will be the special line of thought developed in the evening sermon.

The Epworth League meets at 6:30 P. M. and all the young people of the congregation are invited to meet in that service.

First Presbyterian Church.

Corner S. Broadway, E. Fourteenth. Junior Christian Endeavor meets regularly at 9 A. M.

Intermediate Christian Endeavor at 9 A. M. Miss Mollie Russell, Supt. Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Prof. Gordon, Supt.

Morning worship at 11 o'clock with sermon on "The Acid Test."

Regular monthly meeting of Session at 2:30 P. M. Every member is urged to be present.

Evening service at 7:30. Subject of sermon "The Vision of the Ideal."

Ladies' Auxiliary meets Monday at 3 P. M. in the church with the monthly business meeting.

Prayer service every Wednesday evening at 7:30, continuing the "Study of the Book of Romans."

Wouldn't it be profitable for you to spend forty-five minutes in the middle of the week for meditation and prayer? Wouldn't it help you with the problems in the remaining days of the week? Try it once and see!

There is always a cordial invitation to attend the services of this church; a hearty welcome awaits you. May we number you among our worshippers?

—George Wesley Beck, Minister. Residence 107 E. 14th. Telephone 232.

First Christian Church.

(Broadway Church of Christ) Bible School 9:45. Supt., C. E. Cuning. A good live school. A welcome to all.

Morning worship 11 A. M. Theme of sermon, "The Divine Shepherd and His Sheep."

Regular monthly meeting of church officers in the afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Christian Endeavor 6:30. The society is assuming fine proportion. The Whites are still ahead in the contest. The Christian Endeavors did themselves proud at the church service last Sunday evening.

Evening worship 7:30. Theme of sermon, "Why Was Jesus Crucified?"

A short sermon to boys and girls every Sunday evening at the church hour. All boys and girls invited.

Every one is heartily welcome at the Broadway church.—C. V. Dunn, Minister.

St. Luke's Episcopal Church.

109 E. 14th Street. Rev. Franklin Davis, Rector. Services tomorrow, Quinquagesima Sunday, as follows.

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Morning services at 11 o'clock. No evening services.

The Rev. Mr. Joseph Jamison will have charge of these services and it is the Rector's hope that every one will be present. As always the public is cordially invited.

Announcements for the Week

The regular meeting of the Bishop's committee will be held on Tuesday evening in the Vestry room at 7:30 P. M.

Ash Wednesday services of the Litany and the Penitential service will be held in the church at 10 A. M.

Remember the Lenten season begins with next Wednesday. Let's all start in right and learn afresh as we may, the real blessings of this most helpful season. Those who have honestly kept Lent need no argument for its helpfulness, and are impervious to the pleasantries or sneers of those who know it not.

(Continued from Page Four.)

Methodist Notes.

Wallace M. Crutchfield, Pastor. Sunday school meets at 9:45, and affords a splendid opportunity to study the Bible and receive its ideals. Decision Day is coming, and we are anxious to see all our scholars who

"The Bible as My Guide in Life." March 2, 1919.

Leader—Gladys Garner. Scripture and Introduction—Leader.

The Bible is the Word of God.—Lee McAlester.

The Bible is Sufficient.—Mr. Watkins.

The Bible is the Supreme Standard.—Pearl Wilmoth.

The Whole Bible is Inspired.—Mr. Watson.

The Bible Was Written by Men Who God Selected With Care.—Oma Laird.

The Bible and Science.—Pearl Buster.

The Bible is Every Man's Creed.—Oliver Vernon.

(Continued from Page Four.)

Methodist Notes.

Wallace M. Crutchfield, Pastor. Sunday school meets at 9:45, and affords a splendid opportunity to study the Bible and receive its ideals. Decision Day is coming, and we are anxious to see all our scholars who

"The Bible as My Guide in Life." March 2, 1919.

Leader—Gladys Garner. Scripture and Introduction—Leader.

The Bible is the Word of God.—Lee McAlester.

The Bible is Sufficient.—Mr. Watkins.

The Bible is the Supreme Standard.—Pearl Wilmoth.

The Whole Bible is Inspired.—Mr. Watson.

The Bible Was Written by Men Who God Selected With Care.—Oma Laird.

The Bible and Science.—Pearl Buster.

The Bible is Every Man's Creed.—Oliver Vernon.

(Continued from Page Four.)

Methodist Notes.

Wallace M. Crutchfield, Pastor. Sunday school meets at 9:45, and affords a splendid opportunity to study the Bible and receive its ideals. Decision Day is coming, and we are anxious to see all our scholars who

GLAD TO TESTIFY

Says Watoga Lady, "As To What Cardui Has Done For Me, So As To Help Others."

Watoga, W. Va.—Mrs. S. W. Gladwell, of this town, says: "When about 15 years of age, I suffered greatly. Sometimes would go a month or two, and I had terrible headache, backache, and bearing-down pains, and would just drag and had no appetite. Then... it would last two weeks, and was so weakening, and my health was awful."

My mother bought me a bottle of Cardui, and I began to improve after taking the first bottle, so kept it up till I took three. I gained, and was well and strong, and I owe it all to Cardui.

I am married now and have 3 children. I have never had to have a doctor for female trouble, and just resort to Cardui if I need a tonic. I am glad to testify to what it has done for me, so as to help others."

If you are nervous or weak, have headaches, backaches, or any of the other ailments so common to women, why not give Cardui a trial? Recommended by many physicians. In use over 40 years. Begin taking Cardui today. It may be the very medicine you need.

NC-130

In reference to the delivery of the mails to the soldiers in France, and I know that some members here will say that they are getting very tired hearing of that subject, and of hearing the matter referred to in this house. We are getting tired of that matter, but the thing that I am tired of is the fact that the mails are not delivered, and I am mightily tired of that. (Applause.)

In making this statement I appreciate the conditions under which the mails have to be handled. No sensible man who thinks but knows that it is a gigantic task, one that must take patience and time, and if I thought that my remarks here today would make my people more restless and dissatisfied, and add to their distress, I would desist from speaking. The War Department has stated that the mails were being delivered, and I think that the restlessness that is abroad among the people comes from the fact that the people know from returned letters that the mails were not delivered to the soldiers. The War Department should take the people into its confidence and tell just what the facts are, giving the difficulty, because I know the American people have common sense, and that whenever any reasonable excuse is given them they will be patient, as they have been patient throughout this entire war. They are beginning to be impatient, however, because for 90 days the conditions, while improved, have not yet been corrected. Every man on this floor has received mail which has been properly addressed and which has been returned. That condition ought to be corrected, because I say to you that when you forget the breaking hearts of the fathers and mothers of these boys who won this war you forget the very foundation of patriotic sacrifice for our government. Do not say these things do no good, for I have observed that criticism in this house calling the attention of the department to wrongs that are going on has attracted the attention of the War Department and efforts made to correct same.

I wish to refer to the proposition of working our American soldiers at $3.00 a month alongside of men who get $6 and $8 a day. Out here at Indianapolis, Ind., a private concerned an old factory to the government in which to store automobile trucks. When the men and officers arrived with the trucks to store them they found civilians clearing out the rubbish, and what happened? The civilian employees, whose business it was to clean out the rubbish for the private owner, were discharged and the American soldiers put in there to clean out the rubbish of that factory. That is not right; it is not fair. It is not fair to the boys, and I want to say here that there are other similar cases throughout the United States. This is not a criticism of the general policy of the government, but it is simply calling attention to these facts in order that such things may not continue.

It is true we must not forget the wonderful achievements of our boys across the sea and the wonderful achievements of the War Department in this emergency, but because of that fact we should not shut our eyes or close our ears to those things that we ought to remedy. (Applause)

Gentlemen of the House, there is another subject that I wish to discuss, and that is the demobilization of our army. When the news came that the armistice had been signed the wives, fathers and mothers of the men in France and in the Army in the United States immediately became interested in the return of the soldiers to their homes. To those not familiar with military methods it seemed just that the boys in France who had been engaged in the hard fighting should be the first to be returned home to America, and that those soldiers who were called under the first orders of the draft, according to their numerical numbers and who never had an opportunity to be classified under the selective draft law would be discharged early, especially those of them who were married and had dependent families and who, if they had had the advance of classification, would not have been taken. I realize that it is a huge task to orderly demobilize an army, but I am convinced in my own mind that the officers having charge of the demobilization of the men should be compelled to give heed and act upon individual cases where the conditions demand the immediate return of the soldier.

Some say we are too impatient in this matter of demobilization; but, sirs, one can hardly be patient when he sees the daily exhibition of a purpose on the part of some officers not to give any attention to, but thrown in the waste basket, as it were, the applications of meritorious cases, and using the threat of court-martial to prevent the soldiers from requesting any assistance in the way of getting a discharge. Every officer that makes an order threatening court-martial proceedings against any soldier who desires to communicate with the members of congress or with his family ought to be cashiered and discharged from the service. Such procedure is un-American and should not be tolerated by this congress. Every man who has a family that can possibly be spared should be immediately discharged. Every man who has employment on the farm, in the work shop, in the stores, and industries of the country waiting for him and can be spared should be promptly discharged. Some armed men, it is true, will have to be maintained for a while in Europe, but I imagine that it will not be necessary to maintain an extensive force there for many months. For military reasons many of the boys who did the fighting are with the occupation army in Germany guarding the Rhine, while there are many other soldiers who did not have the opportunity to reach the battle front are being first returned home. There is evidently some sufficient military reason for this, but the people do not understand why this is done, and it causes unfavorable comment and criticism, and the point I am insisting upon is that the War Department in so far as it can take the public into its confidence and explain the reasons for actions on its part that run contrary to the public idea of common sense, equity, and justice. Every mail brings complaint from the families of wounded boys in regard to the failure of the War Department to furnish them with any information as to the condition at the present time of the soldier. It is not sufficient to answer that there is no casualty, or that the soldier was wounded in September or October with no further information as to his condition, and I insist that the War Department obtain the hospital reports and furnish this information or explain why the same can not be furnished promptly.

Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the House, America helped win this war with the brave, heroic men who left their homes in this delightful and pleasant country and went overseas to patriotic and die on foreign soil; patriotic men and women at home toiled, saved, and sacrificed to sustain them in their hours of trial. Men in all walks of life who remained behind poured their money into the treasury of the government through the purchase of liberty bonds and war savings stamps. They curtailed their business and conformed to all the orders in the regulations of the government. The women of the cities, villages, and countryside vied with each other in the Red Cross work and other similar missions. Their contribution to the carrying on of the war can not be measured. Now, sirs, when our people have done all these things and are at this moment supporting fervently the government of this country, I say that they have a right to have their heartaches receive due consideration at the hands of officers whose salaries they pay. In conclusion let me say, my prayer is that out of the peace conference may come a lasting peace and some system that will make impossible any great world war in the future.

(February 15, 1919)

MR. McKEOWN. Mr. Chairman, I offer the following amendment.

THE CHAIRMAN. The Clerk will report the amendment.

The Clerk read as follows:

"Mr. McKeown offers the following as a new paragraph: After the period at the end of line 7, page 40, insert the following:

"That no part of the appropriations contained in this act shall be available if the War Department shall permit any officer to make orders, rules, or regulations prohibiting officers or enlisted men from communicating information of conditions in the Army to United States Senators or Members of the House of Representatives."

MR. McKEOWN. Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the committee, I think this amendment ought to be put on this appropriation bill. You receive letters, and so do I, and at the end of the letter you will find this statement:

"Do not let my name be used; do not let them know I wrote you. If you do, it means the penitentiary for me."

I say it is time that this congress went on record or took some action to protect the men who can not protect themselves and who can not be heard except through the Congressmen who represent their districts. Gag rule is un-American. We put the soldiers in the service and put them there by law. This congress passed a law that took them whether they wanted to go or not. You can not hear from them and get the facts from them, because they are afraid they will be jerked before a court-martial. You have already seen and heard the record as to what takes place in a court-martial proceeding under the present methods. Every soldier and every officer in the army of the United States ought to have the right to go to his Congressman or his Senator and tell him the conditions without fear of being brought up before any board and dealt with. And I hope that this amendment will carry. (Applause)

THE CHAIRMAN. The question is on the amendment of the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. McKeown).

The question was taken, and the amendment was agreed to.

For the serious diseases that attack the kidneys, Prickly Ash Bitters is a remedy of merit. It relieves backache, dizziness, persistent headache, loss of strength and nervous weakness; symptoms which indicate kidney trouble. Price $1.25 per bottle. Gwin & Mays Drug Co., special agents.

WHEN YOU HAVE YOUR HOUSE WIRED

Don't forget:

The little switch at the head of your cellar stairs and at the foot of the attic stairs.

The switches which enable you to turn on the upstairs or downstairs hall lights from either floor.

The useful lights on front and back porch which add distinction to your home, provide convenience for the caller and furnish protection for your family by night.

The easily reached pull sockets for individual control of lights—easy to find in the dark.

The proper number of baseboard receptacles in every room in order that you may use the many inexpensive electrical conveniences that make entertaining easier and housekeeping a pleasure.

Ask us for figures on wiring your home—an inquiry places you under no obligation.

Ada Electric and Gas Company

119 South Broadway

Phone 70
Ada, Oklahoma

WANT ADS

LOST

LOST—12 volt Vesta Storage battery from truck on road to Lawrence. Finder please return to Magnolia Petroleum Co., Ada. Reward. 2-28-31*

WANTED

WANTED—Clean washed soft cotton rags 5c per pound.—Ada Ice and Cold Storage Co. 2-27-6t

WANTED—Real Estate Salesman or Saleswoman to sell lots in Ada on weekly payments made at a bank, experience unnecessary. Can devote all or part time, liberal commissions, easiest possible terms. If you are ambitious to earn a little extra money in your home city write us. Whether you are already in the real estate business or want to break into it we are pleased to hear from you.—N. P. Dodge & Co., 15 and Harney Sts., Omaha, Neb. 2-17-41w

MISCELLANEOUS

OLD MATTRESSES—Made new. New cotton mattresses for $7.50. Phone 413. 2-24-tf

WANTED TO RENT—Five or six-room modern house, at once. Phone 818 or 868. Mrs. A. L. Bowles. 2-26-tf

FOR SALE OR TRADE—Four automobiles—two Overlands, one Ford, one Chevrolet. Will sell on terms or trade for good stuff. See Dr. Sullivan. 2-11-tf

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Bed room and living room, south side. Inquire at News office. 2-24-tf

FOR RENT—3 unfurnished rooms 401 West 16th and Cherry.—Mrs. B. C. Scott. 2-27-3t

FOR RENT—Rooms furnished or unfurnished. 231 East 14th. Phone 716. 2-25-tf

FOR RENT—Two light housekeeping rooms, 131 East 14th. Phone 146 or 104. (2-28-tf)

FOR RENT—Two furnished rooms for light housekeeping. 230 East 14th. Phone 612. 2-26-tf

FOR RENT—Unfurnished apartment at the Collonade. Phone 358 before 8 or after 6.—Mrs. Riddle. 2-11-tf

FOR RENT—Front bed room down stairs. Modern. Call before 9 a. m. or after 4 p. m. 215 East 13th. 2-18-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Railroad claim blanks. The Ada News. 2-21-tf

FOR SALE—All my furniture at once. 217 S. Stockton. 2-21-tf

FOR SALE—5-room house, 50 foot lot, 516 East 8th.—W. S. Akers, phone 700-J. 2-24-tf

FOR SALE—6 room house and 2 lots 2 blocks from Irving school. Possession March 1.—Dr. Sullivan. 2-17-tf

FOR SALE—5-room cottage, good location, in Sulphur, Okla. Address G. S. C. care of Carbon Coal Co., Carbon, Okla. 2-19-12t*

contained in this act shall be available if the War Department shall permit any officer to make orders, rules, or regulations prohibiting officers or enlisted men from communicating information of conditions in the Army to United States Senators or Members of the House of Representatives."

MR. McKEOWN. Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the committee, I think this amendment ought to be put on this appropriation bill. You receive letters, and so do I, and at the end of the letter you will find this statement:

"Do not let my name be used; do not let them know I wrote you. If you do, it means the penitentiary for me."

I say it is time that this congress went on record or took some action to protect the men who can not protect themselves and who can not be heard except through the Congressmen who represent their districts. Gag rule is un-American. We put the soldiers in the service and put them there by law. This congress passed a law that took them whether they wanted to go or not. You can not hear from them and get the facts from them, because they are afraid they will be jerked before a court-martial. You have already seen and heard the record as to what takes place in a court-martial proceeding under the present methods. Every soldier and every officer in the army of the United States ought to have the right to go to his Congressman or his Senator and tell him the conditions without fear of being brought up before any board and dealt with. And I hope that this amendment will carry. (Applause)

THE CHAIRMAN. The question is on the amendment of the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. McKeown).

The question was taken, and the amendment was agreed to.

For the serious diseases that attack the kidneys, Prickly Ash Bitters is a remedy of merit. It relieves backache, dizziness, persistent headache, loss of strength and nervous weakness; symptoms which indicate kidney trouble. Price $1.25 per bottle. Gwin & Mays Drug Co., special agents.

FOR SALE—5-room cottage, good location, in Sulphur, Okla. Address G. S. C. care of Carbon Coal Co., Carbon, Okla. 2-19-12t*

FOR SALE—6 room house and 2 lots 2 blocks from Irving school. Possession March 1.—Dr. Sullivan. 2-17-tf

FOR SALE—5-room cottage, good location, in Sulphur, Okla. Address G. S. C. care of Carbon Coal Co., Carbon, Okla. 2-19-12t*

FOR SALE—5-room cottage, good location, in Sulphur, Okla. Address G. S. C. care of Carbon Coal Co., Carbon, Okla. 2-19-12t*

FOR SALE—5-room cottage, good location, in Sulphur, Okla. Address G. S. C. care of Carbon Coal Co., Carbon, Okla. 2-19-12t*

FOR SALE—5-room cottage, good location, in Sulphur, Okla. Address G. S. C. care of Carbon Coal Co., Carbon, Okla. 2-19-12t*

FOR SALE—5-room cottage, good location, in Sulphur, Okla. Address G. S. C. care of Carbon Coal Co., Carbon, Okla. 2-19-12t*

FOR SALE—5-room cottage, good location, in Sulphur, Okla. Address G. S. C. care of Carbon Coal Co., Carbon, Okla. 2-19-12t*

FOR SALE—5-room cottage, good location, in Sulphur, Okla. Address G. S. C. care of Carbon Coal Co., Carbon, Okla. 2-19-12t*

FOR SALE—5-room cottage, good location, in Sulphur, Okla. Address G. S. C. care of Carbon Coal Co., Carbon, Okla. 2-19-12t*

FOR SALE—5-room cottage, good location, in Sulphur, Okla. Address G. S. C. care of Carbon Coal Co., Carbon, Okla. 2-19-12t*

"The Man Who Wanted The Other Man's Wife and Got Her," or "Is Mar- ried Life a Failure?"

Theme Next Sunday, 7:30 P. M.
First Methodist Church

Wallace M. Crutchfield, Pastor.

TO-DAY LIBERTY TO-DAY

FINAL APPEARANCE OF

Paul Zallee's Kentucky Bells

PRESENTING A FARCE COMEDY—
"DOMESTIC PETS"

PICTURE PROGRAM.

"EDDIE POLO"

In
"LURE OF THE CIRCUS"

SCREEN MAGAZINE

Showing all the latest current events, and one of those funny
L-Ko Comedies—

"LIONS AND LADIES"

COMING MONDAY—"THE PRINCESS MAIDS"

THEATRE AMERICAN THEATRE

AMERICAN FILM CORPORATION PRESENTS

MARGUERITE FISHER

(She is everybody's favorite)

In

"Fair Enough"

A COMEDY DRAMA IN FIVE ACTS

COMING MONDAY—PEARL WHITE
IN A NEW SERIAL OF FIFTEEN CHAPTERS—
"THE LIGHTNING RAIDERS"

For
FARM AND RANCH LOANS
See, Write, or Phone
ARTHUR L. BOWLES
Over First National Bank
ADA, OKLAHOMA
It's to your interest to see me before you renew or close your loan and get my rate and terms. You get ALL YOU BORROW.
Phone 818 or 724—R.

Advertising supplies almost every great lack;
from the lack of personality to the lack of business;
from the lack of a vocation to the lack of interest.

The word "advertise" brings today a special message of hope to the human race, for it is the whole solution of the Reconstruction Period.

It is impossible to succeed in any walk of life today without a knowledge of the value of advertising.
A calling in itself, it is the gateway to innumerable other vocations.

In the broader sense advertising includes the very clothes you wear and the way you speak.

Whether you are a buyer of advertising or a student of advertising or only a reader of advertising, it behooves you now as never before to understand its principles, for consciously or unconsciously it is one of the ruling forces of your life.

—By E. Sampson, author of "Advertise."

Try a News Want Ad Tomorrow

Plenty of exercise, fresh air, regular hours—is all the prescription you need to avoid influenza—unless through neglect or otherwise, a cold gets you. Then take—at once

Standard cold remedy for 20 years—in tablet form—safe, sure, no opiates—breaks up a cold in 24 hours—relieves grip in 3 days. Money back if it fails. The genuine box has a Red top with Mr. Hill's picture. At All Drug Stores.

CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTS

(Continued from Page 3)

Christian Science Services at 11:00
a. m., 111 North Broadway. Subject:
"Christ Jesus."

B. W. M. S.

The Society will meet at the home of Mrs. S. P. Ross at 3 p. m. Executive committee will meet at 2 p. m.

MRS. J. E. HUCKMAN, Pres.

MRS. J. E. HICKMAN, Pres.

Second Baptist Junior Program.

Song 17.

Prayer.

Song 170.

Bible Drill.

Mae Lawrence, Leader.

Scripture Reading—Alton Warr.

Subject—Dorcas.

Introduction—Leader.

Dorcas a Good Woman—Earl Northcutt.

Dorcas Dies—Floyd Williams.

Dorcas Raised—Ruby Earnest.

Special song by three girls.

The Revival—Samuel Hardee.

The Consecrated Needle—Rosie

Gannon.

Poem—Aubrey Holloway.

Memory verse.

Program for Sunbeams.

Sunday, March 2.

Subject—Mission work.

Hymn—Jesus Loves Me.

Bible Lesson—Luke 2:8-4.—Lora

Wilson.

Prayer—Leader.

Hymn—Jesus bids us shine.

Mission Stories by the members.

Business.

Offering.

Closing Prayer by Mrs. Goforth.

Meets Sunday afternoon at 3:30.

Let every member be present and bring some one with you. All are welcome.

B. Y. P. U.

(Second Baptist Church)

6:30—President in charge.

Song.

Prayer.

Leader—Mr. L. W. Peay.

Subject—The Bible as My Guide in Life.

Scripture Reading—Psalm 119:97-

107, Mabel Clark.

Introduction—Leader.

1. "The Bible is the Word of God."

Viola West.

2. "The Bible is Sufficient." Willie

Cole.

3. "The Bible is the Supreme Standard." Mamie Hardee.

4. "The Whole Bible is Inspired."

Love Lewis.

5. "The Bible Was Written by Men Whom God Selected With Care."

Mr. Harrison.

6. "The Bible and Science." Bertha

Bingham.

7. "The Bible is Every Man's Creed." Mr. Hynds.

Quartet—Mr. Harrison, Mr. Hynds,

Mrs. Hynds and Bessie Holloway.

B-e with us this

Year as we view our

Possibilities to have a better

Union, both Senior and Junior.

BESSIE HALLOWAY,

Captain No. 1.

Missionary Bulletin First Methodist Church.

I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me, Phil. 4:13.

The Missionary Society will meet

Monday at 3 o'clock in the church parlors for its regular monthly business meeting. Every member urged to come. Visitors welcome. At the last business meeting Mrs. Orr and Mrs. Truitt were elected as delegates to East Oklahoma annual conference of Woman's Missionary Society which meets in Shawnee, March 4 to 7th.

Mrs. Jeter, Mrs. Cullins, alternates.

We will have quite a treat at this conference. Dr. Munpower one of our

Would You Run on a Flat Tire?

Suppose your front tire went flat ten miles from home.

You would not bang and bump along after you knew that every turn of the wheel was tearing the life out of the casing.

Why not be as reasonable about your battery?

The penalty for mistreating a battery is just as sure as for abusing a tire. The care is just as easy.

Drive into our Service Station and let us tell you just how easy it is.

We distill our own water. Battery

Inspection Free.

F. A. FORD

Phone 140

10th and Broadway

missionaries to Africa, will be there.
Miss Ida Shannon of Japan, our own Mrs. Hargrave, who represents our work in woman's part in the Centenary movement. The entire body of Southern Methodist women, shall enlist in prayer and service for the Centenary Movement with the enthusiasm and self-sacrifice which always characterizes women's best efforts for her Lord and His church.
The call of the centenary is not primarily to get money, great as is the need of it. The aim of the program is to stir the church to a new sense of responsibility and duty that the sacrifice already made in life may not be made in vain.

The need of the hour—Men and women loyal to Jesus Christ and the right, prepared and ready to serve.
Ready for world service; this means you.

Mothers, Mrs. Jeter will meet
Sunday at 3 o'clock to organize,
"Young People's Missionary Society."
So send your boys and girls the ages from 14 to 20. Just think what this work means to your boy and girl, and did you know the missionary society is the best mobilized organization in the Methodist church, every work of every kind with its own head, and this good strong spiritual woman, who has been so faithful and loyal to the Junior Society for five years, so she is promoted with some of her juniors to this young people's work. The need today for strong Christian leadership, this leadership is now in our schools and colleges, if the church will rise to her opportunity now, she may have this strong, virile leadership, which will enable her to meet the demands of the new day.

Aim: Young People's Missionary
Society in every church.
Motto: "Loyalty to Christ."
Watchword: "Each one win one."
Remember the time, 3 o'clock Sunday, Methodist church—Supt. Mission Study and Publicity.

Junior Missionary Society.

Topic—"From Bethlehem House to Belgian Congo."

Leader—LaRuth Cassidy.

Song.

Bible Lesson—"Prayer First of All." 2nd. Sam. 5:19-25.

Comment on Lesson—By leader.

Prayer Circle.

Story of Mother Sawyer—Edith

Crumley.

Glimpses of African Life—Gladys

Sherman.

Song—"Save Us Ere We Die."

How Our Foreign Mission Work

Began in Africa.

Story of Melville Cox—Margaret

Ewald.

Centenary Quiz—Superintendent.

Announcements.

Song—Benediction.

Benediction.

The Centenary calls us to give help to our little brothers in black at home and abroad.

St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

St. Joseph's Catholic Church will hold mass Sunday at 9:30 a. m.

40 YEARS AGO

BLOOD POISON WAS CONQUERED
BY OLD DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION WHICH YOU REACH TODAY.

40 years ago "Number 40 For The Blood" conquered many cases of specific blood poison in its worst forms, which have not returned. This disease is manifested by mucous patches, copper colored spots, aching bones,
ulcers or running sores, falling hair, glandular swellings, pimples on the face, constipation and a form of dyspepsia. Your health is important, insist on "Number 40," put up in a blue carton bearing the signature of
J. C. Mendenhall, 40 years a druggist,
Evansville, Ind.

DISTRICT COURT JURY TERM COMPLETES WORK

The jury civil term of the district court was completed Friday afternoon. Judge Bolen kept a steady grind going for two weeks and the docket was cleared of a large number of cases, none being continued on account of lack of time to try them.

The following cases were disposed of during the last two days of the term:

Sherwood Hill vs. M. O. & G. Railway, judgment for $2,188.07.

J. E. Cooper vs. Scrivner et al.

Judgment for $2,450.

C. H. Butler vs. Minnie and Geo.

Wade, Jr., judgment for $350.

W. B. House vs. Tolbert Construction company, judgment for $978.89.

T. Z. Rhea vs. Alexander New and

H. C. Ferri, receivers, $150.

AT THE PLAY HOUSES

LIBERTY.

Last appearance of the Kentucky
Belles. This evening they will present the farce comedy, Domestic Pets.
The picture program includes an installation of the Lure of the Circus,
Screen Magazine and the comedy,
Lions and Ladies.

AMERICAN.

Marguerite Fischer, the prima favorite of the public, is featured in the five-act comedy drama, Fair Enough. This is one that will please everybody. Coming Monday, Pearl White in the first installment of the fifteenpart serial, The Lightning Raiders.

Notice Yeomen.

Ada Homestead, 541, will meet in regular session Monday night, March 3 in I. O. O. F. hall. Every member requested to be present.

J. U. CRISWELL, Foreman.

D. S. NEWTON, Correspondent.

Smartest New York Headgear

FOR CHILDREN

MAYER'S "LIDS FOR KIDS." A HOUSE WHICH MODELS HATS
FOR CHILDREN EXCLUSIVELY.
(A Kiddies' Note-Book With Each Hat.)

SOME CHARMING MODELS ON DISPLAY IN OUR FRENCH
ROOM FOR MOTHERS AND THE OLDER GIRLS.

The Glines-Batell Millinery

125 East Main Street, Ada, Oklahoma.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Furniture Smith's.

Get it at Gwin & Mays.

Have your Photo made at West's.

Forty-cent plate lunch.—Schreiber's

One can do without music but who wants to. Get an Edison. 2-18-tf

Miss Clarice Cartwright left for Weleeka this morning to spend a few days with her parents. She was accompanied by Misses Currie and Clar-

ice Roach. 2-28-2t

Coffee cake every Saturday.—Ada

Steam Bakery. 2-27-2t

Home-made pies at Glenwood school Monday evening. 2-28-3t

February was a banner month in the way of fires in Ada, the fire company not being called out during the entire month. It is thought that the people are taking greater precautions against fires than formerly.

Bring in that picture and let me frame it for you.—C. A. Cummins.

1-15-tf

Benton's Blight Remedy for sale at Gwin & Mays Drug Store, Guaranteed.

2-27-2mo*

Dr. C. A. Thomas has just received a message from his son, Churchill,

that he had arrived at Norfolk, Va.

Churchill was in France for a year and saw some of the most active service. Dr. Thomas expects to see him at home before a great while.

The very best can be had in our coffee cake.—Ada Steam Bakery.

2-27-2t

Fat, juicy pies! They will make your mouth water. Glenwood School

Monday evening. 2-28-3t

A fake bootlegger is working in this vicinity having sold over a doz-